

WORKINGS

BRAND CONCEPT PRESENTATION

18.05.26

To to create a modern,
distinct Brand that speaks to the intended target audience and captures the Brand Strategy -
‘We care about the way
work gets made’.

Feedback:

- Not a fan of orange or purple
- Neon colours are good (as accent colours)
- Consider teals or blues
- Palette to be relatively simple - i.e. One main hero colour, then supporting colours.

BRAND STRATEGY OVERVIEW

WHAT WE DO

WORKINGS is a private, local-first authorship tool that runs quietly in the background as you work, capturing how your digital work was made. It lets you prove authorship on demand, protect your IP, share your process when you choose, and turn the act of making into content for use in teaching and self-promotion.

HOW WE DO IT

WORKINGS captures your process — keystrokes, screenshots, behavioural signals, and metadata — across every program you use, directly on your device, never in the cloud. The record is held locally, hashed and Bitcoin-anchored for tamper-proof verification, and revealed only when you choose. Redaction tools let you remove anything sensitive before sharing; the same record can become a branded timelapse for social, a portfolio piece, or a teaching artefact. Start the app, leave it on, and WORKINGS quietly does the rest.

TARGET AUDIENCE

Motion 1: Individual creators and knowledge workers — authors, designers, writers, academics, researchers, freelancers, consultants (typically 25–55) who need to prove human authorship for credit, IP protection, differentiation or credibility.

Motion 2: Knowledge-economy institutions — consultancies, law firms, agencies, universities — where the value of work is the work itself. Beachhead: UK universities (Imperial pilot confirmed, September 2026).

HOW WE DO IT

WORKINGS exists to celebrate the way work gets made — not just its shiny, final result. In an age where trust in authorship has eroded and content is too often dismissed as manufactured and disposable, the journey behind the work matters more than ever. WORKINGS authenticates and protects that journey — the drafts, the dead ends, the second tries, the moments of epiphany, even those elusive flow states. Whether AI-assisted or not, your process stays yours - yours to keep, yours to share, yours to learn from.

BRAND PILLARS

Privacy

WORKINGS runs on your device. The record is held locally, not in the cloud — nothing leaves your machine unless you choose to share it. Privacy isn't a setting or a feature added on top; it's the architecture, all the way down.

Provenance

Every record is hashed and Bitcoin-anchored, creating a tamper-proof, time-stamped trail of creation. Forensically defensible — whether the question comes from an examiner, a client, or a court.

Continuity

WORKINGS captures the process across your whole digital workspace, not just one tool. Writing, designing, coding, researching — the record is continuous across every program you use, with no platform lock-in and no workflow change. It just runs in the background, so you can focus on the work.

Ownership

You control what's shown, and how. Redaction tools let you remove anything sensitive before sharing. The same record that defends your work in a dispute can become a branded timelapse for social, a portfolio piece, or a teaching artefact.

Brand Concept

BRAND MARK RATIONALE

Using an identifiable W as the icon - to make it ownable to the Brand

...combined with communicating The WAY- the journey of how we get to the final result

...and a squiggle, to show the human interaction and the value of your 'workings'

BRAND ICON

The Brand Icon contains three levels of meaning - the literal, W (linking to the name), the journey (linking to the way / process) and the scribble (linking to the human interaction).

BRAND MARK

The Brand Icon pairs with the Word Mark to complete the full Brand Mark. The typeface used has been crafted to complement the round edges of the icon, as does the squiggle tail of the editorial style g. The custom made sans serif balances the softness with a modern tech feel due to the uniform character strokes and geometric proportions.
